The Croatan Forum is a gathering for leaders working at the critical nexus where finance, sustainability, and economic development intersect.

The Forum is produced by Croatan Institute, an independent nonprofit research institute whose mission is to harness the power of investment for social good and ecological resilience. Since its launch in 2014, the Institute has rapidly established a reputation for rigorous, action-oriented research on investing in constructive solutions to some of the major challenges of the 21st century.

The Croatan Forum is a thought-provoking, multi-day conversation where leaders will gather to discuss cross-cutting issues such as:

- Impact Investing and Sustainable Finance
- Climate Solutions and Just Transitions
- Resilient Communities and Regenerative Economies
- Racial Equity, Social Justice and Inclusive Finance
- Corporate Sustainability and Engagement

Join this important series of conversations in downtown Durham, NC April 27-29, 2020!

Who and Where?
The Forum will bring together over 100 leaders in the fields of impact investing, social finance, inclusive entrepreneurship, corporate sustainability, food and agriculture, and economic and community development. It will take place in downtown Durham, NC – the Startup Capital of the South, historic home of Black Wall Street, and a critical hub in North Carolina's vibrant Research Triangle region.

Why Sponsor?
Becoming a sponsor of the Croatan Forum puts your organization in front of this diverse audience of leaders and practitioners working at the nexus of finance, sustainability, and economic development. You will have the opportunity to attend the Forum, exhibit at the event, and, if you elect to be a Signature or Lead Sponsor, to speak to the Forum’s audience directly.
